

PROJECT

Phillips County has constructed a new 250' x 350' covered pavilion and education center at the Phillips County Fairgrounds. Features of the Bank of Colorado Pavilion include:

- ◇ A large 160' x 200' mobile arena
- ◇ Pens for all animal species shown at the fair
- ◇ Bleachers for spectators
- ◇ Conference room
- ◇ Concession stand and kitchen
- ◇ Restrooms and showers

HISTORY

The existing Phillips County fairgrounds exhibit buildings have served county residents since the late 1940's.

The west beef barn and the horse barn are well beyond their useful life. They, along with the sale arena, the scale house, and the metal structure used to fit cattle, were all removed to make space for the new BOC Pavilion.

COMMUNITY SURVEY

In March of 2014, 71% of County respondents indicated that if funds are available, a new multi-purpose building should be built.

PURPOSE

The Bank of Colorado Pavilion & Education Center has provided facilities for a number of events. Along with the Event Center, it has offered an opportunity to host regional events and showcase our county.

- ◆ Special youth activities

VISION

Phillips County is a small but vibrant county with Colorado pride. Current population is close to 4,300.

Our local economy is based on farming, with our livelihood depending on the abundance of crops raised in the area. In the same manner that we build granaries to store our crops, we want to continue to "Raise the Roof" on the Bank of Colorado Pavilion for the vitality of our county.

Working together to Raise the Roof has provided our county with:

- ◆ A showcase for youth and their projects at the county fair
- ◆ A much-needed gathering place for our rural communities to learn, grow and prosper
- ◆ A place to educate the world and ourselves on how to conserve and preserve the land that feeds us
- ◆ A place for education for all ages
- ◆ A place to enjoy each other and our guests

The Bank of Colorado Pavilion and Education Center has unfolded as a place of prosperity and growth for the county that we call home.
